

CAMMETT A MUSICAL WONDER

Can Master Most Any Instrument-- Never Took a Lesson in His Life.

One of the wonders of the musical world is Woodbury Carroll Cammett of this city who has opened the eyes of the different instructors who class him as the "man who eats music." Cammett, who is twenty-two years of age, never took a lesson in his life and there is hardly a musical instrument invented that he cannot master.

Cammett is a singer as well as a leader of an orchestra for dancing and other occasions and expert musician who have watched his work progress. He has been known to pick up four of the latest songs in one night at a theatre and play them perfect in his arrival home.

He began at the age of eight years on a home made mandolin, of two strings and a bow that he found on a dump.

He now plays a mandolin, piano, violin, accordion, harmonica, five, banjo, the guitar, cello, flute, simple xylophone, concertina, Jew's harp, trap drums, cornet, trombone, bones. He can produce a perfect tune with his mouth open, by slapping himself on the cheeks and action of the throat.

He also gives a perfect imitation of a bass violin on a broom handle. He is "absolutely perfect" with strict time and the best of harmony.

EXPOSING THE BULL MOOSE

Archbold of Standard Oil Says the Big Trust Contributed $150,000 to T. R. Campaign.

SENSATIONAL POINTS IN ARCHBOLD'S TESTIMONY ACCUSING ROOSEVELT

ARCHBOLD SAYS:

That the Standard Oil Company gave $125,000 to the Republican cause in 1904, of which $100,000 went to the national committee directly, and $25,000 went to Penrose for the campaign in Pennsylvania.

That he was assured by Bliss, treasurer of the national committee, that Roosevelt should know of the contribution and that it should be "gratefully received."

That he was later urged by Bliss to contribute $150,000 more, and was given to understand that Roosevelt was back of the request.

That the Roosevelt administration "persecuted" the Standard Oil Company. He let it be inferred that this "persecution" was the result of the Standard Oil Company's refusal to make a second contribution.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—It is believed Colonel Roosevelt will take the stand within a few days before a subcommittee investigating campaign expenditures, to answer the charge made yesterday by John D. Archbold that Mr. Roosevelt had knowledge of the use of Standard Oil money in his campaign of 1904.

The committee was divided last night over its future course of action. Upon the arrival today of Senator Luke Lea, one of the absent Democratic members of the committee, a meeting will be held to determine when to call and where the next meeting is to be held. Several members of the subcommittee favor transferring the hearings at once to New York, where Colonel Roosevelt, George W. Perkins, George B. Cortelyou and members of the Standard Oil Company's board of directors might testify.

The statement made yesterday by John D. Archbold, financial head of the Standard Oil company, made a clear-cut issue between him and Colonel Roosevelt, according to members of the subcommittee. Mr. Archbold testified that his understanding that Colonel Roosevelt knew about and endorsed the Standard Oil contributions came through former Treasurer Cornelius N. Bliss of the Republican national committee, who is dead. Although Colonel Roosevelt publicly stated it was absurd for him to appear before the senate committee, it is understood he has consented to take the stand if desired in view of the direct charges made yesterday by Mr. Archbold. If Mr. Cortelyou is recalled it will be to explain the statements made by Mr. Archbold that Mr. Cortelyou, as chairman of the national committee, knew of and sanctioned the Standard Oil contributions.

Senator Pomerene of Ohio, who sat with the subcommittee yesterday to represent the absent Democratic members, probably will be made a permanent member of the committee in place of Senator Paynter of Kentucky. The subcommittee will then consist of Senator Clapp, chairman; Senator Jones, Oliver, Lea, and Pomerene. The committee is authorized to continue its sessions after the adjournment of congress, and the conclusion of the session today will not interfere with the immediate summoning of other witnesses.

HALL FAMILY HOLDS REUNION

Officers Elected and Dinner Enjoyed at Noon

The Hall Family association, who trace their genealogy back to Deacon John Hall who settled at Dover Point soon after coming here from England, held their 18th annual reunion at Central Park, Dover, yesterday and while the attendance was not quite so large as on former occasions yet a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Among the new faces there was George S. Hobbs of Portland, second vice president and comptroller of the Maine Central R. R. At the business meeting it was voted to hold the meeting one week earlier next year which everyone thought would be a better time and would make it possible for some who could not come later to be present.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were the same as for the past year with two exceptions, Miss May Hall Wentworth who has served the association so acceptably for the past ten years or more, as corresponding secretary declining to serve longer and Mrs. May Gowen of Portsmouth retaining as recording secretary, the duties of which office she has also faithfully discharged.

A nominating committee consisting of George H. Hall of Berwick, John Greenwood of Newington, N. H., and Mrs. Ruth Spinnery of Portsmouth, brought in the following list of officers and they were unanimously elected: President, Sumner Hammond; vice presidents, Hiram S. Hill, North Berwick, J. Henry Butler of Berwick, George H. Tall of Berwick, recording secretary, Mrs. Sherborne of North Berwick; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Phil O. Wentworth of Somersworth, N. H.; treasurer, John J. Greenwood of Newington, N. H.; executive committee, Mrs. Morrill Sherborne of North Berwick, Miss Myra Wentworth of Berwick, Lorenzo Baer of Rollinsford. The dinner was served in the grove at noon.

There were those present at the reunion from Berwick, North Berwick, Wells, Kittery, Portland, Portsmouth, Somersworth, Epping, and Barrington. The place of holding the next reunion will quite likely be at Central Park.

President Mellen of B. & M. Calls in Passes of All Directors.

He Cites Decision of Interstate Commerce Commission.--Legal Battle Will Follow.

Like a thunderbolt from a clear sky was the effect a letter had on the Directors of the leased railroad lines in New Hampshire, when they opened their mail today. It was a letter from President C. S. Mellen's secretary, and was as follows:

Boston & Maine Railroad,
President's Office,
Boston.

Dear Sir:—

By the President's direction, I quote below ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission under date of April 8, 1912:

"Upon inquiry it is held, that officers, directors, and other persons connected with a nonoperating company are not entitled to use free transportation."

The opinion of our counsel, is however, that under the terms of the leases of our leased lines, the officers and directors of the leased companies are entitled to pass free over them as a means of proper supervision of their own property.

I enclose herewith pass issued over substantially the physical limits of the bearing a stamp reading:

"Good for interstate travel only in connection with supervision of property of company on whose account pass issued."

This will permit you to use the pass in accordance with the spirit of the lease, which provides for a supervision of the property by you.

Mr. Mellen directs me to express his regret that it is necessary to do this, but believes you will appreciate the fact that we have no option under the law.

Kindly return for cancellation the pass you now hold.

Yours truly,
A. B. NICHOLS,
President's Secretary.

This is likely to create somewhat of a panic up the state and a legal battle is certain to follow. Several of the Despondent because he had been ordered to Panama, Sergt. Walsh of the U. S. Marine Corps committed suicide yesterday by cutting his throat in his room at the Brooklyn navy Y. M. C. A., Sands street, Brooklyn.

In a room on the floor below and about the same time Sergt. Walsh ended his life, Joseph Penchford, a negro sailor on the battleship Connecticut, accidentally shot himself in the leg, when his revolver was discharged in repulsing imaginary burglars. Fearing punishment for carrying a revolver, Penchford sneaked out of the building and got as far as a city hall park where he fell exhausted. He was taken to the Hudson street hospital.

BLUEJACKETS AND MARINES BEING RUSHED TO CENTRAL AMERICA

Washington, Aug. 23.—The big armored cruiser California, speeding for Panama, has been ordered to put in at Corinto and land 340 bluejackets and her full detachment of 60 marines.

After this the vessel will steam immediately for Panama to take on marines which leave Philadelphia tomorrow on the transport Prairie. The California probably will arrive at Corinto next Wednesday.

The Prairie arrived at the Philadelphia, Navy Yard today from Portsmouth, N. H. The work of enlisting the ship and the placing of stores on board was at once begun. The regiment of marines probably will go on board the Prairie tonight, as she is under orders to sail tomorrow morning.

Dispatches to the State Department are from 21 to 28 hours late in transmission. Each seems to indicate more aggravated conditions. Quicker transmission of official cable messages probably will follow the arrival of the gunboat Denver at Corinto. The vessel is due there tomorrow or Sunday. She will land about 100 bluejackets, and will steam to San Juan del Sur, where the cable station is located. Then the Navy will be in direct communication with the Annapolis and Justin at Corinto.

State Department officials are hoping the dissension in the rebels' quarters over the provisional presidency will keep up until the arrival of American reinforcements, as there is little to fear from combined attack while the rebels are at odds.

Catcher Raridan of Boston Greatest Blocker in the Game.

Boston, August 24.—There is not a catcher in the national league who has it on Bill Raridan of the Boston Braves when it comes to blocking players of the plate. It takes nerve to do it, more nerve than it does at second base, but that is where Raridan shines. He is an earnest, hard working young fellow, and the more games he is allowed to catch the better he likes it.

MANY NAVAL MEN ALLEGED VICTIMS

NEW YORK, August 24.—Claude J. Van Slyke, president, and James A. Robinson, secretary, of the New York Realty Company, a bankrupt concern, were arrested here by Federal officers this afternoon on indictments charging use of the mails to defraud. The frauds were alleged to amount to $500,000.

William H. Cooper former president of the company, and Ernest Sharp, also connected with the company, who are under indictment were also arrested.

Van Slyke was held in $5000 bail, while the others will appear for pleading next Wednesday.

The company which went into the hands of a receiver last March had bond holders all over the world, especially among naval officers and enlisted men, to whom special inducements were offered in alluring statements as to the sum all would have when their period of enlistment closed.

NOTICE TO SHIPPERS OF MEAT INTO MASSACHUSETTS.

On and after September 1, 1912, carcasses of meat cattle, sheep, and swine must be inspected at time of slaughter by an official inspector, and the product be properly stamped before being shipped into Massachusetts.

The law will affect many persons in this State; therefore, the State Board of Health has deemed it necessary to take the matter in hand, so as to provide for the inspection with as little expense and inconvenience as possible, to meet the requirements of the situation.

Persons interested should apply to the State Board of Health, Concord, N. H., for particulars.

EXETER LETTER

EXETER, Aug. 24.—Mrs. James O'Hara of Franklin street has been much disturbed since the killing of the unidentified man on the Boston & Maine railroad track, Tuesday morning, as her husband who had been working in Newmarket, had been missing for a few days. Descriptions given of the man killed answered much to that of her husband and she called at the undertaking rooms of M. L. Field last evening, for the purpose of viewing the body.

Mrs. O'Hara stated that she did not think the man was her husband from the fact that the dead man had much gold in one of his teeth, a fact which was not true of O'Hara. Otherwise it was difficult to identify the body as it was so badly mangled and cut up.

Circulars have been sent out to the members of the high school alumni whose addresses are known, for the reunion which is to be held on the afternoon and evening of Sept. 9, when the new Tuck high school building will be dedicated.

The executive committee is composed of Judge Henry A. Shute, Frank A. Merrill, Mrs. Gilman E. Hoyt and Alice J. Jewell. The dedication exercises will be informal, on the afternoon of Sept. 9. They will occur on the old Phillips academy campus where the building is situated and the alumni exercises will also include a dance in the evening.

Exeter will have a baseball game, this afternoon, when the Exeter A. C. side will play the second game of the series with the Newmarket Mills team.

Willard I. Rowe, principal of the grammar school, has completed a course in chemistry at the Harvard school.

Edwin C. Connor and two sons of Mountbarnborough were visitors here today. Mr. Connor was a graduate from the Phillips Exeter academy and for many years was a tutor for students here.

John H. Elkins, the well known auctioneer, has received from an Exeter person of past years, Charles Pike, who is now located at New York, a large and attractive picture of the ill-fated Titanic. Mr. Pike is captain of a coast-wise schooner, sailing from New York to Savannah, Ga., and also other ports on the Atlantic coast. He was formerly of the Capt. B. T. Diggs, which was owned by H. W. Anderson and which sailed up and down the Seacoast lived in the days of the shipping.

PROGRESSIVE LEADERSHIP

Strange as it may seem it is nevertheless true that the origin of the present prominence of many who assume to be leaders in the Bull Moose party is simply and solely a craving for high public office.

The chief Bull Moose himself would still be following the grand old party's elephant if Theodore Roosevelt had been nominated to the republican convention at Chicago.

The republican party would still be good enough for James R. Garfield if he had been continued in office by President Taft as secretary of the interior.

If Gifford Pinchot were still chief forester in the department of agriculture he would not deem the organization of a new political party essential to national welfare.

The same idea holds good of lesser lights in the field of progress.

The loss of a former office coupled with the desire to regain the same or attain to a better one is the milk in the coconut on which many Bull Moose leaders feed.

NOT BLAMABLE TO THE PRESIDENT

The democrats in Congress put the wool bill up to President Taft, just as they put those special session bills up to him for a political purpose.

They know very well that he could not and would not sign it; they wanted the chance in the campaign to denounce him as obstinately thwarting their earnest efforts to lighten the people's burden.

They couldn't secure William H. Taft with any such clumsy tricks as that, and they can not fool intelligent voters with them.—Hartford Current Republican.

A BAD PARTY

The Roosevelt party is the party of the muckrakers, those who besmirch honest men for money; the liars, those who accuse President Taft of doing, consenting to or knowingly profiting by anything improper; and the thieves, those who would steal the name of a party to which they do not belong in order to effect the defeat of that party.

And a party of muckrakers, liars, and thieves, ought not to, and we predict will not get more votes than Tom Watson got in 1908.—San Francisco Chronicle.

NO SUITING 'EM

When the Titanic went to the bottom of the ocean everybody condemned Captain Smith for not slowing down, "way down," as they expressed it. Last Sunday night when Captain Blair of the Boston-Bath boat anchored off Seguin Light, because of dense fog, more than 100 passengers drew up and signed a petition asking him to proceed. There's no suiting some folks.—Salem Evening News.

PEOPLE ARE DISCOVERING THE POLITICAL FAKIRS

With the completion of the arrangements for the beginning of the construction of the big undertaking at Mt. Washington, such as the building of the electric road and the mammoth hotel, and with the rush on the construction of the big elevated section through the city of Lynn, and the delivery of fifty to one hundred new locomotives and several hundred new passenger and freight cars to the Boston & Maine during the past two months, it would appear that President Mellen had started the swing of progress that he has been arranging for for the past few months. There has been a general brushing up over the entire system of the Boston & Maine, and all officials and their subordinates appear to have taken the Mellen inspiration to do things, and co-operation is evident throughout this big system. The trains are moving on excellent time, with safety and speed. The Portland Division roadbed is being rebuilt, and in time the main lines, like the N. Y. & N. H., will be ballasted. These big transportation lines are being rapidly modernized. With any sort of public co-operation, New Hampshire will be in the forefront, so far as railroad facilities go, in less than two years.

The public have discovered that Mr. Mellen meant every word he said, and that in order to carry out his extensive plans he has been obliged to summon to his assistance the necessary funds to do the work. This has not been an easy matter. He has stood his ground, taken the kicks from the Massachusetts politicians, who have attacked him for political purposes, without a word of complaint. He is going carefully about his work of building up the New England lines, making New England busier and better for the people and for the manufacturer. The work of educating the people so that they may discover what is behind the politician in his effort to appear as a sponsor for the people in attacking the road, is being rapidly unveiled. The public is learning that upbuilding of the railroads and the success of the railroads means more business and more work for the people, and in a short time the railroads will receive fair treatment and the demagogues will be cast into oblivion.

New Hampshire has suffered the presence of a half-a dozen men who have made their living and attained their prominence in attacking railroads for personal gain. We want careful and honest supervision of the public utilities, but the public will not stand for a gang who are standing in the way of progress and trying to deceive the people. The citizens of Massachusetts have made the discovery that certain politicians are standing in the way of progress in that state. They have discovered that the railroads have been held up in every conceivable manner, and that a number of men that have posed as reformers were nothing but fakers. The mask is slowly, but surely, being removed, and in a short time the people for whose use the railroads are will demand the tunneling between the North and South Stations in Boston and the right for the man at the head of these roads to make the work of putting them in proper shape to handle business easier and without the say-so and approval of a petty crowd of political shysters.

Private Donations for Public Schools.

The New York bureau of research has struck a chord that will find a response, and a hearty one, in the breast of every right-minded American citizen. It says that "private donations may properly be made to the public schools, and it goes to the trouble of publishing a pamphlet which summarizes the purposes for which private gifts and bequests may be made. When everything is said, the nation owes more to the public schools than to any other educational institutions, small or large. This may be held without reflecting upon or detracting from the private institutions that through many years have been the recipients of private munificence. It is time, however, that the public schools should be recognized privately as well as publicly for its great worth, for the support it has given to democratic institutions, and popular government, and to all they stand for.

The public school is maintained by taxation, it is true, but this is no reason why it should not become also the beneficiary of private endowment. It must never be dependent upon private support, but if anything can be done through private gratitude and philanthropy to make it a stronger bulwark of liberty, enlightenment and morals than it is already, this should be encouraged.

The colleges and universities have their loyal sons everywhere and their loyalty has made for the upbuilding of institutions of which this nation may well be proud; but in a sense the alumni of the public school have been neglected of their alma mater. She has sent into the world millions of sons and daughters well equipped for the duties of life; she has been, and is, the great feeder of the colleges and the universities; she has been and is the source from which the intellectual energy of the nation is drawn primarily; more and more is being demanded of her yearly, and it is high time that her sons and daughters were remembering her in the days of their success and prosperity.

If she shall be thus remembered, out of the fulness of appreciation and gratitude, it will mean the creation of a new tie between her and her children. Nothing that can be by any means advance the cause of public education in the United States should be neglected or ignored or despised. With the diffusion and advancement of education many problems that now rise like mountains before a people conscious of their responsibilities, but sometimes doubtful of their capabilities, will disappear. There is nothing, there can be nothing, too good for the public schools of the country. They should be nurtured and supported by the public as a matter of duty and as a matter of national protection; they may well be aided by the individual citizen to the extent of his ability as a matter of patriotism and of love.—Christian Science Monitor.

TO DISTRIBUTE RESOLUTIONS

City Clerk Guy E. Corey today received from Concord for distribution copies of the resolutions passed by the last constitutional convention.

The resolution that is expected to attract the most attention among the voters is on the redistricting of the senatorial districts and the proposed reduction in the size of the house of representatives.

AUTUMN DELIGHTS IN THE WHITE MOUNTAINS

For a good many seasons White Mountain hotel and boarding cottage proprietors have been telling their guests that September and October were the most delightful months of the year in the White Mountains.

They wanted their friends to see the mountains decked out in the wonderful coloring of autumn.

The Boston and Maine railroad stimulated the desire to go by operating autumn excursions to the White Mountains. Very low rates were named to the principal resorts.

As a result the number of persons who go into the hills of New Hampshire in September and October to spend their vacations are steadily increasing.

These excursions are now eagerly anticipated by hundreds of Portsmouth people each year.

The date of sale of the Boston and Maine excursion tickets (this fall) are Sept. 9 to October 10, and returning until October 21. The round trip for a little more than the one way fares.

Most of the hotels offer special rates to patrons of those excursions. They are keeping open later than usual this season. The Mount Washington for instance will not close its doors until October 21.

September and October are ideal months for a visit to this mountain playground.

The vivid colorings of Autumn lend an additional attraction to every scene.

The mountains, always beautiful, ever changing, offer the same attractions to the vacationists whether viewed from the porch of some great villa, or from a more modest farm house where two or three city boarders are lawns. That is their great attraction as a playground.

The clerk, the business man and the millionaire, can each find infinite variety the class of accommodations suited to his purse, from the great hostelry, costing a million, with gorgeous furniture and luxurious surroundings, down to the spare room in some quiet farm house, with everything plain, but neat and clean, and the inevitable grip of rug carpet on the painted floor.

The star attraction in New Hampshire's Mountain Park is Mount Washington which stands as a sentinel over the presidential range, its head the first to become hoary with the September frost and snow.

The narrow, steep, steel pathway to its top can be seen from many points and the smoke from the cog wheeled trains for twenty miles or more.

Never will you forget the superb view of the ever changing panorama as you find yourself slowly drawn up the mountain side for nearly a mile and a quarter above the sea. You will never regret having come up here to take a peep at the world from the roof of New England.

Here you will sit and have your luncheon above the clouds, whose billows of mist look like a noiseless ocean of rolling waves.

There will be no lack of amusements for the autumn visitor. Riding, driving, tennis, and golf, will help to pass many pleasant hours. Trips through the mountains by rail and motor also add to the attractiveness of a sojourn.

Photos by American Press Association.

The directors of publicity or heads of the press bureaus in this fall's national political campaign are David S. Barry for the Republicans, Josephus Daniels for the Democrats and Oscar King Davis for the Progressives. Mr. Barry and Mr. Davis both are well known Washington newspaper correspondents. Mr. Daniels is the editor of a leading newspaper in North Carolina and has been the member of the national committee from that state for many years. Mr. Davis also is the secretary of the Progressive national committee.

ORDERS WATER SHUT OFF

Joseph Hett May Bring Suit Against City.

The board of public works and Joseph Hett, one of the city's active residents are lined up in battle over water bills, and as a result Mr. Hett says he will sue the city and Sup. Barrett of the water department has shut off the water at Mr. Hett's residence on Maplewood avenue.

The Herald man had a talk with Mr. Hett this morning.

In the course of the conversation he stated that the city owed him $92.00 as an overcharge on his water bills of 1911 which amounted according to the water department to $160.00. What put the climax on the thing was the transaction in which Mr. Hett sold the city a lot of hay on a competitive bid.

The bill of 1911 was still standing and when Mr. Hett received his check for the day the board of public works had deducted the amount it claimed was due for water used on his property. Now he refuses to pay the 1912 bills on account of the deal he claims the board gave him.

He claims that there is a big variation in the figures between the two years. "Why said he, they are collecting water charges from me for a house at 73 Hill street that I do not own and which is the property of Freeman R. Garrett, and also for a bath tub in another house that has no plumbing equipment. Mr. Barrett, the superintendent of the public works, stated that he knows nothing of Col. Jett's dealings with the department in 1911. That he would not pay his bill for 1912 after receiving due notice and the same rule as in other cases was followed and the water cut off on his house.

"I went to Mr. Hett and told him that we did not like to shut off the water and asked him in person why some agreement could not be reached, and he said to me 'shut off the water, that's what I want you to do' and we did it.

What about Mr. Hett Paying water charges for a building at 73 Hill street that he does not own?"

He has paid for the same building up to this year and we never heard from him before now. I think that the board of assessors can show whether he or some one else owns the property.

What about Mr. Hett Paying water charges for a building at 73 Hill street that he does not own?"

Click Simon of the water office

stated that there might be some difference in the figures on the bills and that some mistakes might have been made due to the renumbering of houses. He thought that everything could be settled satisfactorily to both sides if Mr. Hett would to both sides if Mr. Hett would submit his bill to the city.

Mr. Hett is hauling a supply to his residence and putting the matter up to his attorney and claims that he will institute suit proceedings against the city.

On Friday he took the matter up with mayor Badger who is inclined to bring the thing to a settlement without any further controversy. If he can.

FORMER POLICE HEADS ASKED TO TESTIFY

Police Inspectors Summoned to Give All Kinds of Information.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The first step toward laying a foundation for the John Doe proceedings, by which it is planned to bare police graft in this city, was taken today when several police inspectors were summoned to the office of Assistant District Attorney DeFord. They were under summons authorized by Justice Goff, who is to preside at the inquiry, to bring with them all the data pertaining to gambling and other illegal resorts in their respective districts. This includes the addresses of raided resorts, the names of their reputed owners and a record of all arrests and convictions in the several districts during the last three years, including the recent period during which Police Lieutenant Becker, the accused instigator of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, is charged with having profited from blackmail.

This material will be used by Mr. DeFord, who has been given charge of the inquiry, as a groundwork of the investigation, for the summoning of witnesses and the cross-examination of the inspectors themselves, all of whom, it is expected, will be summoned before Justice Goff. Former heads of the police department under Mayor Gaynor's administration are among those who will be also asked to testify as well as a number of deputy commissioners. It is not unlikely, it is said, that Mayor Gaynor himself will be called.

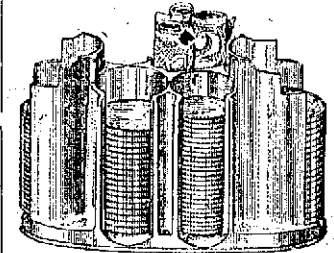

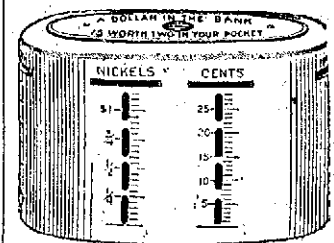

One of the inspectors, together with a high civilian employee at police headquarters, will be asked to explain the reason for the unusually large bank accounts the investigators acting for the district attorney have found in their names, as well as their reason for recently engaging safe deposit boxes. Investigation of these accounts, as well as those of other police officials under suspicion of grafting, was continued today but nothing could be learned as to the result.

RUBE MARQUAND OF N. Y. GIANTS

In a Sensational Baseball Drama at Music Hall.

Rube Marquand, the famous pitcher of the New York Giants, who established a new record this season by winning nineteen consecutive games, will be seen at Portsmouth theatre Monday and Tuesday of next week in a photo-play entitled, "Rube Marquand's Win," in which "Rube" Marquand invites Miss Alice Joyce to the morning practice of the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds and there he shows her the effective deliveries which enable him to break all records by winning nineteen consecutive games. Miss Joyce, by the way, is an enthusiastic "fan" and we see her with her girl friends at the Polo Grounds, greatly interested in the Giants' struggle for the pennant. A party of sharpers, anxious for New York to lose a decisive game, endeavor to bribe Marquand. Finding their plans have miscarried, the sharpers become desperate and through a ruse, decoy Marquand to an office in the tower of the Metropolitan building, nearly six hundred feet above the ground. "Rube," imprisoned in the room, opens the window and endeavors to attract the attention of some passer-by, but finds that he cannot be heard at that great height.

As Miss Joyce starts from her hotel for the game she glances at the clock in the Metropolitan tower and sees the figure of a man in a window on the fourth floor, wildly waving his handkerchief. Picking up her opera-glasses she discovers the man to be Marquand and she immediately surmises that something is wrong. She hastens to the building in her automobile, and with the assistance of a janitor, liberates "Rube." Away they speed for the Polo Grounds. The New York team win. Marquand arrives in time to hold rallies and secures a narrow lead of one down the opposing team and prevent further scoring. That night Miss Joyce receives a handsome token of appreciation from the Giants.

PORTSMOUTH MARINES WIN MUCH PRAISE

Attract Much Attention and Favorable Comment at Boston.

One of the best drilled companies of United States marines ever mobilized at the Charlestown navy yard for foreign service, says the Boston Herald, left the South station at 8 o'clock last night for Philadelphia on the Federal express, en route to Nicaragua, and yesterday afternoon Commandant Hoffman received rush orders to have the second-class protected cruiser Des Moines ready for sea by Sept. 1. She will be dispatched to Nicaragua if her services are needed at that time.

The marine company consists of 115 men, 73 from the garrison at the Charlestown navy yard and 42 from Portsmouth. The latter arrived at the South station at 4.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and after being fed, marched to the navy yard. Most of the men are veterans in the service and recently returned from duty at Guantanamo, where they awaited developments in Cuba.

The company left the yard at 7 o'clock and was conveyed to the South station in special electric cars. The men, fully equipped for active service in the field, wore the tropical service khaki uniform, campaign hat, and carried haversack, canteen and knapsack. Shelter tents and ammunition will be furnished on board the transport.

The company was mobilized in 24 hours under the direction of Lieut. Col. Theodore P. Kane, commander, and Capt. F. H. DeKane, executive officer of the barracks. It is commanded by Lieut. H. W. Stone and G. W. Martin. Frederick Larkin is first sergeant. Arrangements for transportation to Philadelphia, costing the government $1040 for fares, were made by Lieut. E. B. Cole, the post quartermaster.

The men arrived this morning in Philadelphia, and they with several hundred more marines will embark today on the transport Prairie for Nicaragua.

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO NAVY YARD EMPLOYEES

Des Moines To Rush South

A large supply of stores was ordered yesterday afternoon for the cruiser Des Moines, which is berthed at post 7, at Boston and loading will be begun today.

Ammunition will be furnished from the Hingham arsenal. The ship is commanded by Commander Charles F. Hughes, recently transferred from command of scout cruiser Birmingham.

The Des Moines was designed for foreign service.

She was built by the Fore River Shipbuilding Company, and launched September 20, 1902. She is manned by a crew of 300 officers and men and is equipped by two four cylinder triple expansion engines.

Her main battery consists of 10 five inch 50 calibre breech loading rapid fire guns, and eight six pounder rapid fire guns and four Colt machine guns comprise the secondary battery.

Four Battleships at Boston Yard

The battleships Nebraska, Virginia, Georgia, Illinois, and Scout cruiser Salem are at the Charlestown navy yard.

Navy Orders

Capt. R. C. Smith, detached navy department, to duty in connection with Kansas and in command when commissioned; Lt. W. D. Puleston, detached to the Pacific, to command the Smith; Lt. C. M. Austin, to judge advocate-general's office, navy department; Lt. C. C. Scott to works E. W. Bliss Co., Brooklyn; Lt. W. L. Liggett, Jr., detached works E. W. Bliss Co., to the Newark; Lt. P. H. Hammond, detached to the Des Moines, home and wait orders; Passed Asst.-Surg. L. H.

Premier Scenic Temple Programme

The program for Friday and Saturday is one of exceptional strength and merit, including:
The Heart of Emeralda, Vitaphone. Her heart is all right, but her mind is fickle. She loves one fellow and finds with the assistance of a friend, that she really loves another. Featuring Miss Helen Gardner.
The Deputy's Peril. This is an excellent story showing the experiences of a Deputy in rounding up a gang of counterfeiters in Kentucky. Song, "Let My Girl Alone." Remick.
Miss Lily Blinn.

"Too Much Woeing of Handsome Dan." Vitaphone. He gives every girl in town an engagement ring. They get wise and give him a chase on horseback, then give him a ducking until he cries for mercy. A screaming "The Arrow Maker's Daughter." This is a Pathé western story, very interesting from beginning to end.
Song, "Ragtime Cowboy Joe," be requested.
Miss Lily Blinn.

"The Stubbornness of Youth," is a comedy drama beautifully portrayed by the Lubin company.
"The Mayfarer," Selig. A subject of western adventure, love, romance and border excitement.
Matinees 2.30; evenings 7; Saturday evening 9.30; dancing until 11.

The Herald Hears

That somebody appears to be ready to start something on the recent drowning accidents.

That every story going the rounds in connection with the death of those men found in the river is far from the truth.

That the work of the children at the playground is certainly astonishing.

That the Portsmouth lodge of Elks will have a big party to the Shoals on Monday night if the weather is O. K.

That there is some class to the ladies crown pieces for the Fall season.

That the monthly fire drill at the navy yard is somewhat belated.

That the parish reunion and outing of St. Mary's parish of Dover at Quamphagan park on Labor day will be one of the biggest events of its kind ever held in this section.

That the South pond certainly needs a bath.

That Chief Lang of the government wireless station on Seaver's Island is certainly the right man in the right place.

That the K. of C. members say the matter of a home looks good.

That the Gluester club is doing some fast bowling.

That the Boston & Maine railroad appears to have given up the idea of obtaining a supply of water on its own property in this city.

That the officers of the ships at the navy yard will make a strong attempt to put one over on the yard officers at baseball today.

That Deer street leading to the railroad station is a mess.

That the shoe factory of the R. M. Baker Company will be a good addition to the business of this city.

That the toll collector at the Portsmouth and Kittery bridge should have a printed circular giving the history of the bridge so that his time would not be taken up arguing with travelers.

That there is no end to the rumors about coming changes on the B. & M. among the official family.

That the most of it will not happen in Sept. 1 as predicted.

That there was plenty of excitement on Belington street Friday during the shower.

That the telephone company will be busy several days clearing up the trouble on its lines on that street.

That the Salem fair was not shy of fakers.

That their next camp is at Rochester.

That the street paving blocks on Russell street near the Vaughan street crossing, will soon be out of sight, the way they are sinking.

That freight business on the York Harbor and Beach railroad is heavy.

That Capt. Muchmore of the Franklin Pierce, has yet to show us what he has up his sleeve.

That the boys are afraid that snow shovels will be in use before the captain gets busy.

That the two young men from this city who rescued the young lady in the woods at Salem fair grounds want no medals.
